

Professor Mihai Șandru

I have graduated the Law School (1998) and the Faculty of Philosophy (2002), within the University of Bucharest, I hold a PhD in Law from 2007 and I am full professor from 2011.

I am the co-ordinator of the Center for European Legal Studies, Institute for Legal Research “Andrei Radulescu”, The Romanian Academy [Centrul de Studii de Drept European al Institutului de Cercetări al Academiei Române] and I teach European Union law and International Trade Law at the Christian University Dimitrie Cantemir (Bucharest). I also teach Companies Law and Competition Law (postgraduate courses) (also at the Christian University Dimitrie Cantemir) and European Union Law. Institutions of European substantive and procedural law (University Titu Maiorescu, Bucharest).

In what concerns my professional activities, I am an arbiter at the Court of International Commercial Arbitration. I am the editor in chief of the Romanian Review of European Law [Revista Română de Drept European], and I am member in scientific committees of certain other significant law journals in Romania (Dreptul, Studii și Cercetări Juridice, Revista de note și studii juridice, JurisClasor CEDO, Revista de Drept Maritim/ Maritime Law Review, Synergies Roumaine, Revista Forumul Judecătorilor, Revista Mediarea, Afaceri juridice europene, Revista Român[de Arbitraj, Dezbateri Social Economice).

I am also national rapporteur (for Romania) for the European Public Law. I act as scientific reviewer for Oxford University Press, C. H. Beck și Editura Universitară.

I am the president of the Societatea de Științe Juridice [Legal Sciences Society] and of the Asociația română de drept și afaceri europene [Romanian Association for Law and European Affairs] and also an active members in other Romanian and foreign associations (L'Association Franco-Roumaine de Juristes, Uniunea Juriștilor din România, EuroAcademia, Asociația română pentru studiul dreptului comparat și a dreptului internațional privat, Asociația internațională de filosofie a dreptului și filosofie socială, founding member of the Romanian Society of European Law [Societatea Română de Drept European]).

I have published books and articles (some of them being also uploaded on SSRN). My most recent works include: editing the books „Dealing with EU law. The role of national courts in the interpretation and application of European Union Law” – together with Giuseppe Martinico și Mihai Banu, and „Interviewing European Union. Wilhelm Meister in EU law” - together with Mihai Banu).

In what concerns the preliminary references, I have published two books: „Procedura trimiterii preliminare. Principii de drept al Uniunii Europene și experiențe ale sistemului român de drept” and „Refuzul instanțelor naționale de a trimite întrebări preliminare”, both with C.H. Beck, 2013, together with Dragoș Călin și Mihai Banu.

I am also involved to important scientific events, as member in some executive and scientific committees for certain national and international conferences.

I am currently taking part in two research projects: „Procedura de constatare a neindeplinirii obligațiilor – contextul român și tendințe europene” [Infringement proceedings – Romanian setting and European trends] (CSDE), „Elemente de noutate în Tratatul de la Lisabona. O evaluare la cinci ani de la intrarea în vigoare” [Novelties brought by the Treaty of Lisbon. An assessment five years after its entry into force] (CSDE) and „IADUER.ro – Afaceri juridice europene” (ARDAE) – a database containing all the preliminary references originating from courts and tribunals of Romania.

My areas of interest are European Union Law and International Trade Law, more precisely: interpretation and application of European Union Law by national courts and authorities, European companies Law, European contract law, international arbitration, interpretation and application of the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods by national courts, agreements between shareholders (in companies).

The habilitation work presents my main scientific achievements, namely books, studies and articles, conferences and professional activity (also within professional associations).
